FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

Prior newsletters and other Varner genealogy information can be found on the Varner Family website.

http://brucevarner.com/VarnerGenealogy.htm

By way of general information we have confirmation. Even if an area of land in Missouri has changed counties over time, records for that piece of land SHOULD have been transferred to, and be found in, the county under which it is currently located! FYI.

That is not to say that information could not be found in records of the original county that controlled the land at the time of occurrence.

So, it seems that the best approach would be to visit both locations to cover any possibility. But, the current county seat would still be the best starting point for old land transfer information.

QUESTIONS / NEWS

Q: Still getting some questions about which is the best company to use for DNA testing.

A: My response is only my opinion. I have tested with FamilyTree DNA. I also subscribe to Ancestry.com. I have no personal experience with 23&Me.

If you are looking at Y-DNA (Male to male), then FamilyTree DNA is the only option.

If you are looking at Autosomal DNA (Male &/or female), but MAY need Y-DNA later, for yourself or others, then FamilyTree DNA would still be the best choice, because you would become familiar with their processes and results for all future DNA testing you become associated with.

If you are looking at only Autosomal DNA, then Ancestry DNA may even be the best choice as it is the largest. Also it is directly associated with the Ancestry.com website.

No one I have talked to seems to really be really happy with 23&Me. Seems their emphasis is on medical issues, such as your propensity towards certain disease. Of course, if one of your main concerns is medical issues, 23&Me would be the clear choice.

Remember that no matter which one you choose, you can, and should upload autosomal results to GedMatch.com. That way you can compare results with people from any company, so long as they have also uploaded to GetMatch.com.

Finally, you may also increase your options by changing companies. In some cases you can upload your results from Ancestry to FamilyTree DNA for a smaller fee. Then have your results in both places.

George Varner of Missouri Direct Line DNA

A few of us are again making a concerted effort to narrow down the precise location where George & Harriet were located when enumerated in the 1860 census. Doing this in hopes of determining where they might be buried. If anyone has any ideas for possible avenues to follow in order to achieve this goal, please let me know. A further explanation of methods tried and their results, will be forth coming in a future newsletter.

Riggs/Varner Connection

Some new details are surfacing about Edmund Riggs, thanks to Dee Bremer and crew who revisited Miller County Historical Society this month. Will cover this in a future issue.

More Information About the Owen Family

I made a trip to the Howard County (Fayette) & Cooper County (Booneville) seats this month, attempting to locate additional information on our George Varner, the Owen family, and any other new data I could find. I came across some interesting details that require additional study, and likely another trip to these counties. I also stupidly overlooked obtaining all information while I was there......

Here is an overview of the information I located in Howard County. No study of this information has yet been made.

I became sidetracked and neglected to look through the actual marriage books, after having captured information from the Marriage Indexes. Sometimes additional family information can be found in the actual marriage record.

Marriage indexes are a duel set of books. One with the males name alphabetized, the companion book with the females name alphabetized. The alphabetized name is found first in the list here.

As you can see, there is no marriage record for any Varner's. It does show several likely descendants or cousins of our Thomas J. Owen in this area.

Next is an index of early legal case records for Howard County.

Owen

An interesting note. All these land transfers involving Thomas J. Owen, occurred in 1840 or after. Thomas J. Owen indicate his wife having the first name of Sarah. This is shown on those sales of land in 1844 and 1850. Our Thomas J. Owen, married a Nancy Varner in Oglethorpe Co. Georgia in the year 1810 (The same year George Varner of Missouri enlisted in the US Army). They then came to the Franklin area of what was then Howard County, Missouri. Our Thomas J. Owen was then in Pettis County by the 1840 census. This leads to the likelihood that the Thomas J. Owen in the property transfers here, may be a son or cousin. Also, the area of then Howard County where our Thomas J. Owen purchased land is in what now is Boone County.

The earliest purchase of non-patent land in Howard County is by Ignatius P. Owen. Who is Ignatius? In land sales his wife is indicated as Elizabeth Owen. After Ignatius death, she purchased lots in the town of Glasgow when it was plotted. Ignatius appears in a federal petition dated 14 Sep. 1819. In that document he mentions a son named Henry Carroll. Ignatius died intestate in 1835. What is likely the record of marriage for Ignatius is found in Kentucky in 1809. An initial record check indicates that Ignatius received two land patents (1824-1825) in Howard County. A study of this person might revel ties.⁴

One of the early entries for legal matters in Howard County (1820's) involved a Glenn Owen. We know that Glenn Owen was the name of our Thomas J. Owen's father. However, that Glenn Owen remained in Oglethorpe where he later died. Also, this Howard County Glenn Owen could not have been a son of our Thomas, because he would not have been old enough to have filed a civil proceeding this early. Could this be a brother or cousin to Thomas? Study might tie this Glenn Owen back to Oglethorpe County.

The area where Thomas J. Owen and George Varner originally lived in Missouri, is a confluence of the three counties of Howard, Boone, and Cooper. Thomas at least, is found in records for each of these counties before they moved south into Pettis County. Confusing to say the least.

I did at one time visit the Boone County Recorder of Deeds. I do not believe I spent much time however trying to find info on the Owens. Those county records need to be scoured again.

Cooler weather is here. Do some genealogy work!

⁴ Off topic. While searching Ignatius on Ancestry, a response appeared. It was for the marriage record of Martha P. Owen to Bejn Birdsong, in Oglethorpe Co. Georgia on 12 December, 1820. It should be noted that many Birdsongs appeared in Miller County, MO. Even a Benjamin who would have been of an age to have been a son.....
